FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LUNCH WITH THE PRESIDENT MEETING HELD AT ACC

The Alpena Community College Foundation conducted its quarterly “Lunch with the President” meeting on December 11, at Alpena Community College. Ken Dragiewicz, ACC Foundation Trustee served as the host of the meeting which was attended by 22 business and community leaders.

ACC Foundation Interim Executive Director Penny Boldrey said, “The Foundation’s goal in hosting these meetings is to provide the College with a format in which it can seek feedback on its programs, particularly those involving our area businesses. The luncheons provide more opportunity for one-on-one interaction with College leaders.”

Those in attendance included: Cindy Johnson, Mayor of the City of Alpena; Mike Mahler, Economic Development Director; Roy Smith, UTT Instructor; David Rabbideau, Alpena Public Schools Superintendent; Tom Soback, Director of the Renewable Energy and Electrification Infrastructure Enhancement and Development grant, Mike Schultz, Timm Construction Company; Andrew Kowalski, EdwardJones Financial Advisor; Claire Kostelic, Vice President Alpena Agency, Inc.; Hunter Nostrant, CEO MyMichigan Medical Center; Tim Schultz, Timm Construction Company; Phil Agius, Frank’s Key & Lock; JoAnn Dehring, VP/Regional Retail Nicolet National Bank; Justin Hinkley, Publisher/Editor The Alpena News; Jim Kraenzlein, Straley Lamp & Kraenzlein; Honorable Alan Curtis, 88th District Court; Jim Boldrey, Boldrey Senchuk Rouleau & Williams CPA’s; Adam Poll, CEO/President Alpena Chamber of Commerce; Cash Kroll, Alpena County Undersheriff; Max Lindsay, ACC Foundation Board Trustee; and Sue Fitzpatrick, President of the ACC Foundation Board of Trustees.
